

DOGBITS

JANUARY 2007

Important Stuff!

Start 'Em Right Puppy Night is on Jan 9th from 6:30-8. This is a FREE event for folks with new puppies ages 8-16 weeks! Gulliver's staff will cover all the basics from nail trimming and housebreaking to crate training and first obedience lessons! Bring your Puppy for playtime, prizes, handouts and learning!

Doggie Education Classes! Starting soon!

Don't forget to sign up! Classes are $80/6 week session. More info at the front desk.

Obedience Monday nights starting Jan 8th.

Basic 6:45-7:45

Level 2 7:45-8:45

Agility Wednesday nights starting Jan 3rd.

Beginner 6:45-7:45

Level 2 7:45-8:45

Winter Photo Contest!!!!

Bring us a photo of your crazy canine enjoying all that winter has to offer! Prizes will be awarded for different categories, such as best overall photo, best dressed, most adventurous, etc. Just drop your photo off, or email it to Amanda@Doggiedaycare.com and we will post it in the lobby for all to see! Winners will be announced Friday, Jan 12!

When temps are below 30F, we have lots of indoor playtime, and frequent, short trips outside!

Gulliver's Corner

Hi everyone. I would just like to point out that I am a dane. Being a dane, like Maui, Nigel, and Skef, I have quite short hair. I am not very appreciative of this thing called winter. Not only do I have to get all bundled up just to go out and do my business, I also have to deal with my kid brother Chollo. He's a shepherd and he along with his other fuzzy pals, think winter is just wonderful. If he could he would be outside all day, and he doesn't even have to wear a coat! He's always pestering me to play out in the snow with the rest of the fuzzy ones, like Zoe, Pepper, Leo, Freedom, Chloe and Burgundy. Sometimes I do, for a little while, but before long I can feel my toes going numb and icicles forming on my nose (ok, so I exaggerate a bit.) The good thing about winter is that I don't have to freeze my tail off to see my friends and have a good time. At daycare, we have the option of nice, warm, indoor play. All I have to do is pick up a paw or look at the door and in I go! Once I warm up inside with a little game of tag, I can go right back out! And if I feel like it I'll push Chollo into a snow bank. Hey, what else are big brothers for? See why Lisa calls me Naughty?

Gully

Tails from the goofy group

Hey there, Schu here. I am a busy little husky these days. I am working hard as a sled dog, hoping to make the race team this year. I have been playing in the goofy group as much as I can, and I like what I see in the new recruits. Brownie has popped over from the puppy group as well as Madison, Sasha, Iko and Shelby. These kids fit right in with the goofy atmosphere. Some of the big yard dogs have decided that they would really rather play with us, since we play the best games, like my personal favorite, "no one can catch the husky!" Sierra and Capone really like that one too. When Darcy the greyhound plays, the game tends to change in theme a bit, but I still pretend it's all about me. That's okay, because she usually decides after a while to go inside, where its warm. Hey, on some of these days, I will admit, even I like "indoor recess."

Schu